Ex-Taiwan solon convicted of raping his Filipino maid

TAIPEI, Taiwan—A former Taiwanese vice presidential candidate and lawmaker was convicted Friday of sexually assaulting his Filipino maid last year.

Elmer Fung, 56, was sentenced to four years in jail. Tests showed semen samples taken from the maid's underwear matched Fung's DNA, a statement from a Taipei district court said.

Fung insists he is innocent and that the woman made up the allegations to get even with Fung's wife for complaining about the maid's work and reprimanding her.

He said he could not have raped the woman because his family was in his small apartment at the time of the reported rape on Jan. 23, 2004. He suggested that the maid framed him by taking semen from a condom he had used with his wife.

The court dismissed his argument, saying no one else had been in the apartment at the time.

The maid, whose name has not been released, was examined at a Taipei hospital and then returned to the Philippines, where she gave her testimony to local police.

Fung was a fringe vice presidential candidate for the tiny New Party in 2000. In 2001, he lost a re-election bid for a seat in the legislature.

He did not appear in court on Friday to hear the verdict.

His daughter, Fung Fu-hwa, said her father will appeal the case.

"The judge took the only evidence presented by the maid and ignored all the evidence we presented," she said. AP

Filipina among those hurt in London terror attacks

By Nikko Dizon and Jerome Aning

A FILIPINA was among those injured in the terror blasts which ripped through a subway in Central London on Thursday, the Department of Foreign Affairs (DFA) said yesterday.

The DFA identified the injured Filipina as Catherine Tantoco Daniel, who is married to a British national. Daniel sustained burns and lacerations resulting from glass splinters, the DFA said.

Her husband, Tim Daniel, informed the Philippine Embassy that she is now confined at the Royal London Hospital. She has been declared out of danger.

"Doctors at the hospital have characterized the Filipina's injuries as superficial and non-life threatening, though she may take a few weeks to completely recover," the DFA said.

Mrs. Daniel was on a train when a bomb exploded near the Aldgate East tube station shortly before 9 a.m. on Thursday, Philippine Ambassador to the Court of St. James Edgardo Espiritu said in his report to the DFA.

Espiritu said the Philippine Embassy is also checking other hospitals in the area for other Filipinos who may have been injured by the series of bomb blasts that rocked various stations of the Central London underground train service.

Foreign Secretary Alberto Romulo has condemned the attack that left 37 people dead and hundreds injured.

"The Philippine government and people condemn and deplore in the strongest terms the series of explosions that rocked several public areas in London yesterday," the DFA said in a statement.

"The Philippines expresses its solidarity with the people of the United Kingdom in facing this menace to human society and hopes that those responsible of this despicable act of terror will be brought to justice," the statement said.

Labor Secretary Patricia Sto. Tomas yesterday ordered labor officials in London to closely monitor the conditions and address the needs of Filipino residents and workers there.

Sto. Tomas directed the Philippine Overseas Labor Office in London to extend any possible assistance to Daniel and to keep a close watch on other Filipinos in the area to ensure their safety.

Sto. Tomas urged OFWs in London to register with the POLO if they plan to move or shift employers.

"This way, the POLO will know where you are and will be able to respond appropriately to you if so required," she said.

AFP defends awarding Valor medal on Buan

By Dona Paz-Bugay

THE MILITARY yesterday defended the awarding of the Medal of Valor to Lt. Col. Noel Itan in the face of protests by two former recipients of the highest combat military award.

According to Lt. Gen. Guillermo Adan, the Armed Forces deputy chief of staff, the objections of two colonels who questioned the award given to Itan and Sgt. Leopoldo Diklan were overruled by the 15-man Medal of Valor Board and by a special review board.

"We should be objective. If you have a personal grudge, don't let it influence your work. We should be professional," said Adan, who chaired the five-man special review board.

Protest

On May 5, Army Col. ARMIN Ortiz and Marine Lt. Col. Camarillo Pervon quit the Medal of Valor Board to protest the medals given to Itan and Diklan last December for "neutralizing" Abu Sayyaf sub-commander Hamdani J. Sal in April 2004.

Ortiz also resigned as commander of the Armed Forces Joint Operations Center on June 10. He is still waiting to be reassigned.

Ortiz and Pervon, who are among a handful of Medal of Valor awardees who are still in active duty, raised several points to show that Itan and Diklan did not meet the award's criteria.

Deceit

They said the Abu Sayyaf leader was about to surrender to Itan that day. They also said Itan's forces amputated Sal's.

But Adan argued that wounding Sal was strategizing before killing him did not disqualify Itan and Diklan from receiving the honor.

"Deceit is part of military doctrine. A commander should do everything, including deception to capture the enemy," Adan said.

He admitted that President Macapagal Arroyo had declared that Itan deserved the medal of valor even before the Medal of Valor Board could start their deliberations.

President's prerogative

Adan said this was within the President's prerogative. He said the same board had failed to give Diklan the Distinguished Conduct Star, the second highest military award.

But the Board of Generals overruled the board and voted to award Diklan the Medal of Valor, Adan said.

"There's a process we follow and if the command decides, they should respect the decision of the command," Adan said.

He said the military leadership was considering not appointing any more awardees to the Medal of Valor Board, as they tended to compare their combat experience with those of prospective awardees.

Their records

Ortiz received his Medal of Valor in December 1992 after leading troops in a two-hour gun battle with communist guerrillas in MIMIS, Negros Occidental. He is a member of the Philippine Military Academy Class of 1979.

Under Ortiz, the 506th Special Forces Company overran a rebel camp composed of 20 HMM and recovered a cache of firearms.

Pervon, a graduate of PMMA Class of 1987, was awarded the Medal of Valor in December 1994 for his role in the rescue of Little Anthony held in Buan by Abu Sayyaf captives.

The rescue operation also resulted in the killing of 45 bandits and the recovery of firearms.

Metro on highest state of alert

THE BELT/ROD perimeter and Metro Manila was now on the highest state of alert, following a growing chain of raids on estimated 100,000 to 150,000 people across the region.

In connection with the ongoing internal security situation, the National Capital Region command is hereby placed on red alert, effective 12 noon, and a statement that ordered General Clair Gato, Metro area chief of police, to be on high alert.

The National Capital Region Police Office was also placed on full alert, effective at "police alerting" in the region, and Metro Manila field command.

"We will not allow any form of terrorism to occur in the region," Gato said in a press interview.

"We are also launching a series of operations in the last part of the month to reduce the (LAP) activities of the police and police agencies," Gato added.

The NCRPO was on "high alert" on Thursday night after four blasts rocked the southern Metro Manila area.

Political turmoil

Gato said that apart from the political turmoil, the police was also putting against terrorism in the region.

"We have learned from the past," Gato said. "We are now on a high alert."

UK sees Qaida hand in attacks UK intel in spotlight over blasts

LONDON—British police hunting bombers who killed dozens of people in their restaurants in London are taking seriously a claim of responsibility by a group declaring links to al-Qaida, the government said on Friday.

British Secretary Jack Straw said the coordinated blasts in pubs and a bus lane "the hallmarks of an al-Qaida-related attack," and the interior minister and investigators were mounting a campaign by a previously unknown group calling itself the "Seven Circles of al-Qaida in London."

"The next six days is serious, so we will look at this very closely but we don't entertain any alternative explanations. We're looking at everything very widely," Charles Clarke told his firm colleagues a day after the explosions.

The attacks were the deadliest in the British capital in peacetime and occurred at the Group of Eight (G8) summit in Glasgow, Scotland.

Police said they received no warning of the attacks, Britain's best in the world, and London had been on high alert since the Islamic militant al-Qaida group's Sept. 11, 2001 attacks on the United States.

We declare our continuing support to the President and to manifest our commitment to her leadership. We also call as the Filipino people to return to work, allow the government to function normally and the socio-economic and political development of the country to proceed. We also urge our countrymen to respect the rule of law, uphold the Constitution and to support the duly constituted authorities.

— Filipino Community in Malaysia

We the Filipino Overseas Workers in Singapore are proud of being Filipinos and grateful to have President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo. It is time for every Filipino to rally behind her and continue to work together to achieve what we all hope for, a peaceful and progressive Philippines.

— Mga Pilipino sa Singapore

We are solidly behind our leaders now in government and that any destabilization and or master moves by anyone from anywhere outside of the framework of the Constitution, will definitely be unacceptable! And let us all say— NO to anarchy! NO to military takeover, NO to the so called transitional revolutionary junta! NO to extra constitutional master move! NO to conspiracy! YES to democracy! YES to freedom! And YES to the preservation of the status quo in government!

— Filipino Community Social Club-Gwas

Our respect for the Presidency remains steadfast and unchanged through tough times. Our sentiment is with President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo who is able to maintain her nobility, professionalism, integrity and service through the trying times of her sovereignty. Mabuhay ang Pilipino, Mabuhay ang Pilipinang Manggagawa. Mabuhay ang bansang Pilipino!

— Philippine Nurses Association of the United Kingdom

We, the Filipino community in Kuwait, affirm our unwavering faith and trust in President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo's leadership. You had been strong for us, stood by us during the Iraqi crisis and even weathered the risks to your own life when you came to visit us at the time to assure us, with your presence, that your government would do everything possible within its means and resources to ensure our safety. The concern and compassion that you manifested left an indelible imprint in all our hearts.

— United Filipino Community in Kuwait

OPENS JULY 13
GRAB YOUR HANKIES, GIVE YOURSELF A GOOD CRY

"Take My Heart Back"
 It'll be alright, you said, tonight.
 Don't you cry.
 Don't you shed a tear
 When you wake up, I will still be here.
 When you wake up, we'll battle off your fears.
 And now I'll take my heart back,
 Leave your pictures on the floor.
 She's back my memory,
 I can't take it anymore.
 I've cried my eyes out,
 Oh, and now I face the years.
 The way you love me,
 Remember all the tears.
 Not a little more time was all we needed.
 Just a little more time for me to see
 Oh, the light that life can give you.
 Oh, how we got such love.
 So now I'll take my heart back,
 Leave your pictures on the floor.
 She's back my memory,
 I can't take it anymore.
 I've cried my eyes out,
 Oh, and now I face the years.
 The way you love me,
 Remember all the tears.
 Na-na-na-na, na-na-na-na
 La-la-la-la-la-la-la-la-la
 Oh-oh, oh-oh-oh

It's all over but the shooting

PGW This is getting a bit shooting.

It's about the latest media coverage of this civil disobedience of legislators that it was firing the water cannon.

We do not allow any of the widespread shooting of children members, particularly by the civil disobedience.

Everybody knows that Governor had a hard time convincing "good" people to join the civil disobedience.

Look, the bill to vote the bill because the other side is not going to do it.

the Supreme Court, without going through a lower court trial.

In the 1991 case, which was a question of law, the Supreme Court ruled against the state, and it was later affirmed.

But in the case of the counting machines, which was highly technical, the Supreme Court did not consider to make experts.

It just decided on the case just the last President.

And the case, as they say, is a 5-4 decision. The counting machines were part of the Governor's re-election program.

But in the Supreme Court, all of a sudden, they all the proposition. The Governor could not run for re-election.

The critical should have allowed the Governor to continue all election results in the last office while Wilson after the losing of the job.

But when, based on the tapes, did the all-important support breaks after the polls, right?

Do you think that the Supreme Court should have ruled?
